J. R. Lencke Goes at Things With a Rush and Already the Long Dormant Factory Shows Signs of Life--Magneeto End of It To Employ 100 Hands by January 1.

The plant of the Campbell Motor Co. in this city now in the possession of its new owners the E. R. Cadwell Company, it having been formally turned over to John K. Lencke, representing the new owners, shortly before noon today. Mr. Lencke arrived on the 11 o'clock train with authorization from both the Cadwell Company and the receivers of the Campbell Motor Co. to take over the property and hold the same pending final closing of title. Until title has been searched and passed upon and an opportunity afforded to ascertain what debts the Campbell Co. left the purchase price will not be paid. Of course should the search not show satisfactory title, the whole deal will be off and the Cadwell Co. will receive back the $10,000 it has paid on account.

Judging from Mr. Lencke's appearance, manner and the way he set to work on his arrival in town, things are due to happen pretty swiftly at the plant. He had not been in town half an hour before he had arranged to have the telephone connected, the electric current and gas turned on, repairs made to the roof, and half a dozen other things.

Mr. Lencke was accompanied by Herbert Cooper, inventor of the Cooper flexible joint and of a number of other mechanical contrivances, who at once went away and got lost respecting every little thing about the plant. Mr. Cooper being one of those men who think a live and breathe mechanism and machinery.

Mr. Lencke and Mr. Cooper were met at the train by appointment, by Secretary Hudson of the Chamber of Commerce, and Charles R. O'Connor, one of the board of directors, who assisted them in finding the things they wanted to find around the city. To a Freeman reporter who met the visitors Mr. Lencke expressed his appreciation of the courtesies he had received from the Chamber of Commerce today and on previous visits to the city. The first time he was here, he said, he just walked all around and said nothing to anybody, just sizing up the town and finding it good. After that he was greatly aided by Chamber of Commerce officials and he considers that organization a very live wire and a credit to the city.

The Appolo Magneeto Company, of which Mr. Lencke is the president and managing director, is a going concern at present employing about 60 hands, with a pay roll of over $1,000 a week at its factory in Brooklyn. It is the expectation to have at least 100 employees in Kingston by January 1. One of a few skilled instructors will be brought here from Brooklyn, it being the intention to make up the bulk of the force from residents of this city as rapidly as they can be trained. Of those employed 75 per cent will be men and 25 per cent women.

Of course the plant will require a lot of clearing up before work can be begun, but Mr. Lencke keeps up the speed he displayed this morning, he will go through the work like a whirlwind.

The Cadwell Company which will make parts for tractors, will occupy part of the plant, as previously stated in The Freeman.

GOMPERS AND GARY MEET AND SHAKE

Whereupon Spectators Who Looked For Bloodshed Were Disappointed--Industrial Conference Opens in Washington.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Oct. 7.—Labor, capital and the public got under the same roof here today to endeavor to find a national platform upon which all may stand in industrial relationship. It was the first time that the public ever has been represented in the time honored and spectacular battles waged by capital and labor. The industrial conference, conceived by President Wilson, got under way without the inspiration of a message from the White House, from whence it was to draw its leadership. The president's illness not only precluded his attendance at the conference, but also to a large extent his personal direction.

The first round in the contest—selection of a permanent chairman—appears to have been a draw. Secretary of the Interior Lane has been tentatively agreed upon and is acceptable to all factions. He has been supposed to have been the choice of the White House although President Wilson is reported to have favored a chairman from among the representatives of the conference.

All steel strike drama are present—Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman and directing head of the United States Steel Corporation; Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; William Z. Foster, directing head of the workers side of the strike, and a multitude of lesser lights. Judge Gary is representing the public in this conference, however, while William Z. Foster is an interested spectator in the visitors' gallery.

The first meeting between Judge Gary and President Gompers ended amicably enough, while hundreds of eyes watched. They ran into each other in the corridor.

"Hello, Sam," said the steel king.

"Hello, Mr. Gary," replied Mr. Gompers.

They shook hands and passed on. An interested gallery of spectators was largely disappointed. They had expected to see bloodshed.

The labor delegates to the conference declare that they will inject the issue of the steel strike into the proceedings at the first available opportunity. What luck they will have in this is problematical, but it is considered certain that there will be some inflammatory speeches concerning the strike.

With Elbert H. Gary and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., sitting not ten feet from them and bound to listen, the labor people do not intend to pass up such a golden opportunity.

In the extreme right side of the Hall of the Americas, in a little roped off square, sit the so-called capitalists. They are principally representatives of the chamber of commerce and investment bankers.

On the extreme left of the hall in an identical roped off square sit labor, headed by Samuel Gompers. And in the center, between the two, as if symbolical, sit the representatives of the public. The principal figures are Mr. Gary, Mr. Rockefeller, President Charles W. Elliot, of Harvard, "Barney" Baruch, Ida M. Tarbell, Charles Edward Russell, and John Spargo, the last two having left the socialist party because of its attitude on the war.

The labor delegation, too, is determined to have its say about the high cost of living. The members present the charge that labor is responsible for it.

"The public," said Samuel Gompers today, "has been given a distorted view of the living situation. Two false statements have been made—one that increased wages necessarily followed by increased prices; the other that there has been under-production due to labor's determination not to work at full speed."

"What is to be done?" asked a questioner.

"End profiteering first," was the reply. "Labor demands a relief from profiteering. It demands relief of the most fundamental character, and at once. With ample reason and proof it places the blame for the false situation in which this nation and the whole world find themselves, squarely upon those who are masters of the productive machinery of the world."

Only two women are present at the conference, Miss Tarbell, a student and writer on industrial and economic affairs, and Sarah Comboy, sitting with the labor people and representing the textile workers.

CARRY DROUTH TO ENGLAND

Anti-Saloon League Pays Good Salary to Spellbinders Who Are Trying to Drive the Wagon Over England.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Oct. 7.—The Anti-Saloon League is paying from $250 to $300 a month to American spellbinders who are working to make Great Britain dry. It was learned today at headquarters. The prohibition campaign is now in full swing with a large corps of men and women speakers working all over the country. There is an astonishing number of women among the dry workers.

Dr. Henry Beach Carr, vice chairman of the executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League of America, and former professor of theology at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., declared that the "great moral victory won in the United States" would assist the campaign in Great Britain.

Among the latest American speakers to arrive are William T. Toole and George A. Henry.

Practically all of the money behind the British campaign was raised in the United States and the bulk of it was collected through voluntary subscriptions by church congregations, according to Dr. Carr.

PRESIDENT IS SLEEPING WELL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Oct. 7.—The president's improvement has continued. His appetite is decidedly better and he is sleeping well.

This was the encouraging bulletin issued at 11:30 today by Rear Admiral Grayson, his personal physician. Rear Admiral Stitt and Dr. Sterling Ruffin.

Amplifying the bulletin, Dr. Grayson said he and his colleagues were greatly encouraged by the fact that the president is now able to take sufficient nourishment to sustain his strength. He reiterated, however, that they are not yet willing to consider themselves "out of the woods." He explained that it was still possible that the president might have a relapse but that personally, he believed it was "not at all probable."

Dr. Grayson also referred to the optimistic speech today of Secretary Lane, who, when elected permanent chairman of the industrial conference, expressed the belief that it might still be possible for the president to attend, declaring it out of the question.

The advisability of removing the president from the capital during the period of his convalescence has been under consideration. It was stated, but the decision has been present. It was thought that with the president out of the city, the temptation to plunge himself into work before he was physically able might be removed. But on the other hand, his physicians thought he might be subjected to further worry by the thought that he was away from "the firing line," in the event that any work demanding his attention should come up.

The following messages of sympathy for President Wilson in his illness were received today at the White House from President Adolfo of the Swiss Confederation and President Dordogne of Haiti, respectively.

"The Swiss Federated Council is duly grieved to hear of your illness. It begs you to accept its wishes of a speedy and full recovery."

"With the most sincere wishes for speedy recovery, we send to the President of the United States sentiments of general sympathy in which the government and people of Haiti heartily join."

By Telegram to The Freeman.
On Board King Albert's Special Train, Amboy, Ohio, Oct. 7.—King Albert, from the windows of the sleeping car, this morning got his first glimpse of the middle west. At midnight his train stopped at Amboy, a siding of the New York Central Railroad, ten miles east of Ashtabula.

At three his train resumed its journey, passing slowly through Cleveland on its way to Toledo, the home of Brand Whitlock, American ambassador to Belgium. The king will make a speech from the steps of the public library in Toledo about 1 o'clock, immediately en route for Chicago which he will reach at 8:30 p. m.

At Omaha, at 10 o'clock tomorrow, he will talk from the platform of his car during a 15 minute stop, and at Ogden, Utah, other 15 minute stop will be made. He will reach Oakland, Calif., Friday at 5:15 p. m., departing an hour later for San Francisco. Then he goes to Santa Barbara where he and the queen and crown prince will rest about four days.

Queen Elizabeth is looking forward to the sea bathing at Santa Barbara.

In Toledo the king will be met by the city officials and a guard of honor of two regiments of the Ohio National Guardsmen.

All around the king's train on the Amboy siding this morning lay fields where the corn stood shocked, "a rich, wonderful country," said the king. "War touched America's heart, but the fields of Belgium—she was unable to continue."

Fully 500 crows were flying overhead from Lake Erie. They were cawing.

"Ah," said the king. "We have those black winged rascals in Belgium, too."

LABOR COMMITTEE IN PITTSBURGH

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Pittsburgh, Oct. 7.—Chief interest in the steel strike today centered in the visit here of the senate committee of education and labor. Elaborate preparations have been made by the strikers for the presentation of their grievances and the announcement from Washington that the senators would go personally into the mill sections to look over conditions was pleasing to the men, believing it would help their cause.

Every plant in the immediate Pittsburgh district was operating today, according to steel officials. Some of them had only partial forces and only a few departments were running. Others that were crippled for the first two weeks of the strike were said to be operating at 100 per cent.

Attorney W. B. Rubin, counsel for the National Strike Committee, was elated today over his success last night in holding a mass meeting of about 300 strikers in Clairton, where assemblages are barred. The meeting was held under the guise of a wholesale consultation between attorney and clients and admittedly was a test. During the "consultation," Attorney Rubin managed to inject a few words of advice to the strikers, but he did not attempt a formal speech and the gathering was not broken up. It is now believed that "consultations" will be held all over the district.

According to the latest figures received at strike headquarters here 375,500 men are on strike over the country. This is a gain of more than 85,000 over the last report.

STRIKERS MAY DEFY GEN. WOOD

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Gary, Ind., Oct. 7.—More than 5,000 striking steel workers and sympathizers are preparing to hold a general mass meeting and parade late today in defiance of orders issued by Major General Leonard Wood, in charge of federal troops here on strike duty.

Major General Wood, on placing the city under martial law last night issued strict orders that no parades or mass meetings would be countenanced. He also ordered the arrest of all persons wearing the uniform of the United States army, who are not engaged in actual military details.

According to information reaching military headquarters today, the strikers' parade will be headed by 500 discharged soldiers in uniform.

Two Assembly Dances.
Society events in Kingston will resume somewhat of their normal status this winter, which will be good news to the entire community since during the period of the war all purely social activities were abandoned. Not only those persons already members of this committee, but all persons who are willing to take an active part in helping to rid the county of tuberculosis, as our share of tiding the whole country of the great white plague are urged to attend this meeting.

MAY SOON LIFT PROHIBITION BAN

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Oct. 7.—Wartime prohibition will be lifted before the end of the year.

Definite assurances of this were offered this afternoon by Senator Penrose, Pennsylvania, chairman of the senate finance committee, and other Republican leaders in charge of the senate's legislative program.

Determined efforts are being made by them to get the peace treaty ratified with reservations before the end of the month. Some of them predicted that ratification would come "sooner than anybody now anticipated, may be within ten days or two weeks, certainly not later than November 1."

With ratification would come the lifting of the war time prohibition ban, according to information they had received, from sources close to the White House, it was stated.

Edwin Drake bored the first oil well, and before the end of the year Drake, under the firm name of Drake & Bouditch, bored through the rock at Titusville to a depth of 70 feet and struck an oil well that yielded 1,000 gallons a day. This discovery started the enormous oil industry in northwestern Pennsylvania.

Ellenville, Oct. 7.—A very happy surprise was tendered Mrs. C. T. Hawhurst at her home on Park street Saturday evening in honor of her 81st birthday. A company of sixteen, including Miss Rose Hawhurst of Ocean Grove, N. J., a niece, and two nieces of Ellenville, Mrs. W. D. Hoornbeek and Miss Fannie Cudney. During the day Mrs. Hawhurst received beautiful flowers from town friends, also a number of birthday greetings from relatives and friends out of town, and all the greetings were warmly received. The evening time found Mrs. Hawhurst and her niece, who was a guest, spending the time in pleasant memories when the door best announced friends calling to pay their respects to this highly esteemed friend of her birthday. Other friends kept arriving until the sixteenth mark was reached. After an hour spent socially with music, a poem entitled "The Four Leaf Clover," was well given by Mrs. George J. Hoornbeek, who also recited "The Day is Done," with Mrs. Kessler at the piano. At 8 o'clock the ladies were invited to the dining room and after they were seated Mrs. Charles A. Dann invoked the divine blessing in a brief but a very fervent prayer. Upon the table rested a large birthday cake adorned with sixteen pink candles. Ice cream and cake were served and then sixteen wishes were given this loved friend as the candles were extinguished. The cake was cut and each one received a large portion. The birthday cake was made and presented by Mrs. Garrett, a niece, residing at Cragsmoor. The refreshments were enjoyed with a pleasant social intercourse and the time for parting came all too soon. Mrs. Hawhurst is well preserved in mind and body, a member of the M. E. Church and its societies, Missionary and Ladies' Aid, and a regular attendant when health permits, a charter member of the local W. C. T. U., and representatives of the three organizations were present to extend congratulations and best wishes to this friend upon her birthday.

Sunday was Rally Day at the M. E. Church. The entire day services were fittingly observed with appropriate program. The morning services at 10:30 opened with an organ selection played by Miss Ellen Watson, and was followed by the large choir and congregation singing very heartily the doxology. Following Mr. Campbell, the organist, presided and during the offertory a very beautiful musical selection was rendered, and following Mrs. J. W. Rapp rendered a vocal solo entitled "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" in fine soprano voice, which was enjoyed by the large congregation in attendance. The hymns were selected appropriately for this occasion and were heartily rendered. The pastor, Rev. Charles A. Dann, delivered an excellent sermon which had for its theme "Why the Church?" This timely discourse was profitably received by all. Roll call was answered by the singing of cards, a new but pleasing departure. Very handsome autumn flowers were the decorations, while above them was suspended the stars and stripes. Among those occupying seats in the congregation were several of the boys honorably discharged from service. At the Sunday school hour, 12 o'clock, the Rally Day service opened under the direction of Superintendent Coons. The opening song was heartily rendered by the members of the school. This was followed by appropriate Scripture reading and prayer by the pastor. Singing followed and two appropriate recitations by Charles A. Dann, Jr., and Miss Jennie McDowell. Other recitations and singing followed and then a well rendered Christian pageant entitled "The Old and New World" was enjoyed by the school and a large number of visitors attending. Closing with singing and benediction by Rev. George H. Smith. Epworth League service at 6:45 had an appropriate program for Rally Day and under the efficient leader, John Smalles, the service was enjoyed to the profit of all in attendance. The evening service was well attended and the program enjoyed. During the service Miss Carolyn Clark rendered a beautiful solo in fine soprano voice. The pastor delivered a very able sermon which had for its theme "Our Part in Creating a Christian Earth." The day was a red letter day for the church people and it is hoped that the day's services will continue to be enjoyed with profit to all who attend and make other days red letter days.

The Story of a Turret Captain

Promotion in the Navy comes quickly to those who qualify for higher ratings. In March 1899 A. P. Nilsen enlisted in the Navy as an Apprentice Seaman, 3rd class. In April 1907 he was rated Chief Turret Captain. His pay today is $165.76 per month.

A man's life — among men!

REEL them off—"Rio", Gibraltar, Ceylon, Yokohama—all the great ports of the world—are they only places on the map to you—or are they ports where you've gone sailing in from the high seas with every eye along the shore turned admiringly on your big ship—your ship!

Are the great world ports nothing to you but little red spots in your school geography, or are they real towns whose funny streets you've walked—whose strange sights you've seen—whose magnificence you've admired—towns in which you've greeted the world's sailor men from the Seven Seas?

Make each port you visit mean another big experience. Curious spots, beautiful spots, ugly spots, famous spots, and every one of them more interesting to see than anything you ever read about in all your life. Every ocean has a United States ship sailing for you—worth seeing.

If you've any call in you for a full life—join, and color all your years ahead with memories of things worth seeing—with knowledge worth having—with an inexhaustible fund of sea tales and adventures picked up ashore and afloat that will make you a welcome man in any company.

Work?—sure, and a man's work it is, among men.

Play?—well, rather, with a bunch of men who know how to play. These comrades of yours carry in their ears the sounds of great world cities, of booming guns, of swashing seas—sounds you will share with them and that will never die away.

And when you come home, you'll face life ashore with level eyes—for Uncle Sam trains in self-reliance as well as self-respect. The Navy builds straight men—no mollycoddles.

Enlist for two years. Excellent opportunities for advancement. Four weeks holidays with pay each year. Shore leave to see in and sights at ports visited. Men always learning. Good food and first uniform outfit free. Pay begins the day you enlist. Get full information from your nearest recruiting station. If you do not know where the nearest recruiting station is, ask your postmaster. He knows.

Go a little slow.
The wrong boiler is a horrible thing to have in your cellar.
It makes so many uncomfortable.
It may even provoke profanity.
One thing it certainly does do, and that is: digs into your pocket book to keep it fed up on the coal it needs.
Now, it's easy enough to claim that this Kingstonian Boiler burns less coal than any other. But to prove it, is quite another thing.
It's this very quite another thing that we want the chance to prove to you. Will you, give us that chance.

TROOP FIVE BOY SCOUTS

(Contributed.)

All scouts who are members of Troop Five are requested to be present at the regular meeting to be held this Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., at their headquarters in St. John's Parish House. At this meeting several important matters, which are of intense interest to each and every member of the troop, will be taken up and settled.
As you have probably seen, Troop Five leads all other troops in Kingston by having 198 points out of a possible 200 points while its nearest rival is Troop One with 196 points. If we are to keep the lead we must work and progress farther upward on the lines of scouting. All other Kingston troops will, of course, fight us for leading place, so we must keep on improving.
One excellent way to do this is to have perfect attendance at meetings so that every scout can learn whatever comes up just when it comes up. Then every member of the troop will have the same opportunity at the same time and can cooperate with each other in what ever improvement it is wished to make in the troop.

At the last meeting we had a member of the Council visit us with Executive Merrill. At that meeting there was also a heated boxing match which kept everyone on their toes to see every move of the combatants. There are many interesting events to witness after the business session of each meeting and each meeting is a little better than the one before.
We have wedded out all of the "dead wood" in the troop and it now numbers twenty-nine scouts. Five of these are Associate Scouts and the remaining twenty-four are Active Scouts. We had nineteen of these twenty-four at the last meeting—where were the other five? Let's have twenty-four, at least, at this meeting. We can never tell who may visit us and we want a good showing.

We are not going to notify you when we have our next social meeting but will have it as a surprise. As you all know, from the last one, that these meetings are well worth attending. We are sure that no one will care to be left out. All come to every meeting and thereby avoid missing anything that you would not care to miss.

There is absolutely no reason why Troop Five should not become the best drilled troop in Ulster county unless it is because the members do not care to see it come out ahead and we're confident that there are no such members! We have as good a scoutmaster as any troop; he has seen action "Over There" as a sergeant; he knows boys; he likes boys; and he is willing to devote a night every week to making Troop Five the best troop. The one way to show your appreciation is by having perfect attendance at every meeting and giving proper attention and obedience.

Let's begin to make our troop the best at 7:30 sharp, Tuesday evening, October 7, 1919, at the Parish House of St. John's Church. Remember, we have a new Executive, Mr. Muleman, who served as a chaplain in the 26th Division. He may drop in at any meeting; we want a full troop at that meeting to greet him.

ENROLL FOR NIGHT SCHOOL

Prospective pupils desiring to take advantage of Kingston's night school to be held this season in the high school should enroll this evening between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock at the high school. Further registration days are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday when pupils may register from 9 a. m. to 12 o'clock noon; from 1:30 to 5 p. m., and from 7 to 9 in the evening.

A fee of $1 will be required of those registering as a sign of good faith. This dollar will be refunded at the close of the term if the pupil has attended 75 per cent of the nights the school is open. When pupils enroll they will be asked what subjects they desire to take up.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, Oct. 5.—Rev. G. W. Budd attended the convention held at Liberty Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing plans for the evangelistic work about to be undertaken by the Methodist denomination at home and abroad. About thirty ministers were present from Newburgh and Kingston districts.

Judge Alton B. Parker returned from his visit to Manchester, England, last Monday. He remained in New York city during the week and came to Rosemount for Sunday. All are glad to learn of his safe arrival.

Mrs. Phoebe McLean returned from her visit to her daughter, Mrs. Robert Dickman, on Monday of last week.
Another collision occurred at the corner of Main and West streets, on Thursday last. This time an auto truck and a Ford car took part in the fray. Fortunately no one was hurt. The six-wheel informing drivers of the dangerous corner has been resting peacefully (for many weeks) upon the ground at the foot of the post upon which it was originally fastened, and for the last weeks it has "reclined" upon one side and to read it the driver of a car would have to stand nearly upon his head. However when it was correctly placed on one side was ever seen to show up one little bit, not invariably plunge through the village at entirely too rapid a rate.

Mrs. O. E. McLean and Mrs. Alfred Terpenning were guests of Mrs. Edward Ashton on Sunday. Mrs. Terpenning spent most of last week in Kingston with her niece, Miss Katie in charge of the extensive tract of land owned by Judge Alton B. Parker at that place. A few weeks ago the plot was taken to a furrier in Kingston and beautiful neck piece made which is now being worn by Mr. Smith's daughter, Miss Amy. The piece is greatly admired, the center being light gray and the edge beautifully mottled in black and yellow.

In jumping from a truck last Saturday afternoon Frank Mott of this village had the misfortune to fracture his leg. Mr. Mott showed great coolness by placing the broken bones in position, as nearly as he could, so that the physician, Dr. G. W. Ross, experienced little difficulty in completing the operation upon his arrival a short time after the accident occurred.

Ennis B. Sheldon of West Esopus motored to Albany twice last week to visit his wife, who recently underwent a serious operation in one of the Albany hospitals. Mrs. Sheldon's friends and neighbors are anxious to hear of her speedy recovery.

The teacher and pupils of village school enjoyed a two days' vacation last week, one day for the soldiers' parade, and the other to give Miss Sheehan an opportunity to attend the teachers' institute.

The firm of E. Winter's Sons of Kingston delivered a piano to the Methodist Church on Saturday last.

Doubtless many in this vicinity will recall the account of the capture of a large wildcat by Alexander Smith during his stay at Ber Haven, Florida, last winter. Mr. Smith encountered the ferocious animal while

WHY KINGSTON POINT PARK HAS THREE ISLANDS

In Dredging the Lagoon. Downing Vaux the Landscape Artist Who Laid Out Park, Suggested Using Dredged Material to Form Islands.

Kingston Point Park, which for past two seasons has been conducted by the board of public works, ended a most successful season closing on September 15, instead of Labor Day as in the past. Since the city has taken over the beautiful park it has made many improvements including the placing of a number of playground swings and other attractions for the children, and the building of a fine Willits road through North street and Delaware avenue to the entrance to the park.

Kingston Point Park today is one of the prettiest summer resorts along the Hudson river. The park itself was laid out in 1897 by Downing Vaux, the well known landscape artist. As many years have passed since the grounds were laid out it may be interesting to the younger generation to learn how the three islands came to be placed in the lagoon. One of these islands, that on which the band stand is located, is appropriately named Harmony Island.

When the park was first laid out the present lagoon was swampy ground and it was decided to dredge it out, and make a channel for boats. While the big dredger was at work Mr. Vaux suggested that it might not be a bad idea to use the dredged material to form islands in the lagoon, and this was done. That is the explanation of the three islands to be found today in the lagoon.

While it may not be known, every walk and path in the park has a name. For instance as one steps off the trolley car and walks out of the car shed they are walking in the Plaza. From the Plaza extends many beautiful walks through the park.

These walks and paths have been appropriately named. Among the few that might be recalled are Under Ledge Path, the Over-knoll Walk, North Walk, South Walk, Briarwood Path, Inevitable Path, Ridge Wood Path, Mulberry Path, Shadow Walk leading to Shadow Bay, Piney Ridge Walk.

A blue print drawn by Mr. Vaux in 1897, when he laid out the park grounds, show the present position of the number of summer houses scattered through the park. Those summer houses are very rustic and add a rustic note to the scenic effects.

The playground apparatus installed at the park by the board of public works has also added much to its attractiveness from the standpoint of the patrons who now during the summer take their family to the park and let them play to their heart's content in the swings and other playground apparatus.

The park is also noted for its historical association for it was here that the British landed and marched to the burning of Kingston during the Revolution.

The burning of the replica of the Clermont, used in the Hudson-Fulton celebration ten years ago in the lagoon also strikes a historical note.

Charles Ray, in "A NINE O'CLOCK TOWN"

10c

Do you live in a nine o'clock town? Of course you know what we mean by that question? And have you, perhaps, gone to a big city, and imbibed freely of city ways and notions, and then come back to the old town and tried to put them into practice? What was your experience in that line? Charles Ray, for once in his screen career, doesn't have any fictitious encounters to handle, but he sure does have other things to attend to, which for a young man amount to considerable. You see Charlie's father owned the village department store, and Charlie had some pet theories which he proceeded to put into practice when he got back from the "big town." How well he succeeded makes a most entertaining story.

YOU MUST ENROLL TO HAVE A VOICE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Oct. 7.—If you desire to have a voice in the important primaries next year, you must enroll with your party this fall. This holds good for men and women alike. There is no other alternative. The election law of New York state is explicit. Many persons do not understand this provision. This is shown by the number of inquiries reaching Secretary of State Francis M. Hugo during the last few days. There will be two primaries of the utmost importance next year, one in April, another in September. At the first, selections will be made of delegates and alternates to the national conventions which will nominate the candidates for president and vice-president, and also members of the state and county committees. The voters at the fall primaries will select nominees for the state ticket.

Here is the procedure in a nutshell:

Voters in cities and villages of 5,000, or more in population, enroll when they register. Registration days in such places are October 10 and 11; Oct. 17 and 18. In New York city the registration days are Oct. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11.

Voters in the country sections, or in places under 5,000, will enroll on election day, November 4.

In the country sections the names of voters are placed on the registration books by the inspectors without the necessity of personal appearance. This procedure enables them to vote on general election day, but they must then appear in person and enroll with their party in order to participate in next year's primaries.

In cities and places of 5,000 or more, the necessity of registration is of paramount importance, more so this year than in ordinary years, in view of the national and state elections next fall, and the primaries that precede them.

Enrollment blanks will be given voters when they appear at the registration places during the next few days. Everyone should enroll.

Clinic at Ellenville.

An after-flu clinic will be held in Norbury Hall, Ellenville, on Friday of this week from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. The clinic is for the examination of people who suffered from the flu or who suspect some form of lung trouble following the flu or some other disease. The examinations will be made by skilled physicians assisted by nurses and there will be no charge for the services rendered or advice given. Dr. Robert Plunkett of Albany and Dr. F. W. Laidlaw, district sanitary supervisor will be the examining physicians assisted by Miss Elizabeth M. Brown, R. N., and Miss Lydia Grappe, R. N.

Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary.

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., which will be held at the parlors of the Association Building on Friday afternoon of this week at 3 o'clock, will, following the business session, be in the nature of a reception to Mr. Safford, the new secretary, and to Mrs. Safford. Dues of the Auxiliary are now being collected and are expected to be turned in full at this meeting, at which time further plans for the Bargain Sale which the Auxiliary is to hold the last of this month, will be completed. A full attendance is desired at this meeting.

Poor tired feet -

POUNDING nail-studded leather heels on hard pavements all day robs you of energy you need. Every step is a shock not only to your feet, but also to your entire system. Every shock consumes your energy and produces fatigue. It adds just that much more to the strain of your daily life.

You can protect yourself from these useless shocks. You can cushion your feet against these daily jolts and jars. O'Sullivan's Heels absorb the shocks that tire you out. They relieve the jolts and jars that make a burden of walking.

It is not just the rubber that gives O'Sullivan's Heels their springiness and wearing qualities.

Rubber, as you know, can be made hard and brittle as in fountain pens, or soft and crumbly as in pencil erasers. To secure the resiliency and durability of O'Sullivan's Heels, the highest grades of rubber are "compounded" with the best toughening agents known. The "compound" is then "cured" or baked under high pressure.

By this special process the greatest resiliency is combined with the utmost durability.

It is this special process that has, since the making of the first rubber heel, established O'Sullivan's Heels as the standard of rubber heel quality.

O'Sullivan's Heels are guaranteed to wear twice as long as ordinary rubber heels; and will outlast three pairs of leather heels.

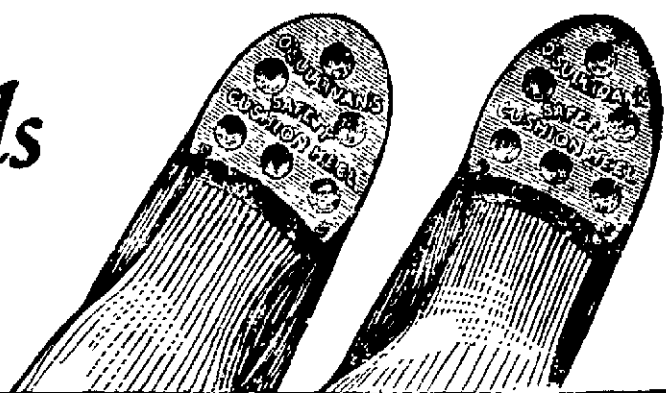

Go to your shoe repairer today and have O'Sullivan's Heels put on your shoes.

O'Sullivan's Heels are furnished in black, white or tan; for men, women and children. Specify O'Sullivan's Heels, and be sure that you get O'Sullivan's—avoid the disappointment of substitutes.

SOCIETY NOTES

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Dana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dana of this city, to Archibald R. Leighton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Leighton of Kingston, will occur on Saturday, October 11, at the home of the bride's parents at six o'clock in the evening.

A miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Frances Hicks of Smith avenue by a number of her friends at the home of Mrs. Robert Liecum, 164 O'Neil street, in honor of her approaching marriage to Alexander Cahill of 36 South Clinton avenue, a discharged soldier who has just returned from service overseas. The evening was most enjoyably spent in games and dancing, the guests departing at a late hour showering Miss Hicks with best wishes for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoffman of Mr. Tromper entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mank and son of Rhinebeck, and Mr. and Mrs. William Ruff of Kingston, in honor of Mrs. Mank's birthday. The center of the table was graced with the birthday cake in pyramid, beautifully decorated in green and white and tiny white candles. The cake was cut and passed by Mrs. Mank to the guests. Everyone wished Mrs. Mank many happy returns of the day. Later they left for their homes, voting Mrs. Hoffman a royal entertainer.

Solkanshade Club.

The Solkanshade Club which is making a study of South America this year, held its first fall session on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pfrommer on Elmendorf street. Following an interesting business session, Miss Cloonan read a paper on "A Journey through South America," which gave a vivid and charming description of the country. This was followed by a reading and a paper on the subject, "Travel through South America and Europe Compared," which had been prepared by Miss Leighton and was read by Miss Brewster in Miss Leighton's absence. Next week the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Rice on Downs street.

Ingels-Moss.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized between Miss Geraldine Moss of Kingston, and John B. Ingels of New Kingston, Delaware county on Saturday, September 20, 1919, in the beautiful Church of the Holy Nativity, New York City. The Rev. Charles F. Kennedy, former rector of St. John's Church, this city, officiated. The bride was attended by her mother, Mrs. Wylie Moss, and the bridegroom by his father, Frank Ingels. Mrs. Ingels, who is well known among the younger set of Kingston, was charming in her handsome traveling suit of blue silverstone. After spending a few days in New York, the happy couple will make their home in Kingston where Mr. Ingels is engaged in business.

Dohrman-Lyons.

Christopher Dohrman, of Highland and Miss Mabel Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lyons, of 215 O'Neil street, Kingston, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Saturday evening, Rev. F. B. Seelye, of the Fair Street Reformed Church, performed the ceremony. Promptly at seven o'clock the bridal party entered the living room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, which was played by Miss Anna Dohrman, sister of the groom. The living room was very attractively decorated with autumn leaves, gold, red and ferns and the mantel where the bridal party stood was banked with ferns and asters. The bride was very becomingly gowned in a suit of blue tricot with hat to match and carried a bride's bouquet of white roses. Miss Grace Ennis of Liberty, was bridesmaid and wore a blue serge suit with hat to match and carried pink chrysanthemums.

John Dohrman, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. The center of the table was graced with a beautiful wedding cake. Following the repast, dancing was enjoyed. On account of the recent death of Mr. Dohrman's father the wedding was a quiet one. The guests present were Mrs. Dohrman, mother of the groom, and the Misses Elizabeth and Anna Dohrman, sisters of the groom; Grant Lyons of Detroit, brother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lyons, Miss Grace Ennis, of Liberty; David Stokes, of Rock Hill, Sullivan county; Charles Thomas, Everett Vernon and Herbert Lyons. The groom's gift to the bride was a very handsome lavaliere, set with diamonds, and to the best man, a solid gold tie clasp. The bride's gift to the groom was a silver ring, and to her bridesmaid a white ivory toilet set.

The wedding gifts included furniture, linen, silver, cut glass, china, and money. The bride's friends will make their future home on the pretty farm located on the Kingston state road which was recently purchased by Mr. Dohrman.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD

The largely attended funeral of the late Miss Catherine Schoonmaker was held at her apartment, No. 78 Main street, on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The officers of the Parents' Teachers' Association of the city, in which Miss Schoonmaker had been so actively and ably active, attended the services in a body. There was also a representation from the Kingston Chapter of the School Women's Club of the Hudson Valley, of which Miss Schoonmaker had been not only an officer but especially instrumental in establishing upon the firm foundation which makes it now such an educational power in this section of the Empire State. There was but one session yesterday at School No. 5, of which Miss Schoonmaker was for so many years a member of the faculty, and her former associates all attended the services. The many and exquisite floral tributes bespoke the love and esteem in which Miss Schoonmaker was held by her almost unlimited circle of friends. The services were in charge of the Rev. Dr. Baragwanath, pastor of the St. James M. E. Church. Dr. Baragwanath said that he felt that no eulogy was needed for such a life as that of the woman whom all revered and who still lives, but he knew that all in attendance would feel with him to pay a deserved tribute to such a faithful public servant, who had shown the highest type of faithfulness in the splendid service which she had rendered during nearly half a century in this community. During that time she had been forming the character and establishing the ideals of the best manhood and womanhood for the children in our public schools. She was now respected and responsible citizen of this city, county, state and nation and not only was her influence for good, immediate, it was permanent as the lives of the children grown to maturity have proven, so that tributes of love and appreciation have and are coming from far and near. Dr. Baragwanath further said that the words best suited as the final tribute to this noble Christian woman were, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them." "Who being dead, yet speaketh," as all would feel who came under the power of Miss Schoonmaker's personality. The interment was in Willowick Cemetery.

Ellenville, Oct. 7.—The body of Mrs. George Smart, who died at her home at Uniontown, Pa., on Wednesday, October 1, was brought to Ellenville for the funeral, which was held from the home of her uncle, William Brankstone, on Center street, Saturday afternoon. The service was conducted by the Rev. H. P. Hobson, of St. John's Church, and interment was in Faintinelli Cemetery beside the body of a child buried there some years ago. Mrs. Anna Hoar Smart was born in Ellenville 59 years ago, a daughter of the late Frank Hoar and Amelia Brankstone, his wife, well known citizens of the village, residing on Broadhead street. Mrs. Smart, so well and favorably known, grew to young womanhood in Ellenville and was united in marriage with George Smart, son of the late Thomas Smart, and Jane Morse, his wife. Mr. Smart was a glass-blower by trade, which he followed in the local glass works, later holding positions of trust in glass works in Pennsylvania, and for several years had their home at Uniontown, where Mr. Smart and family are well and favorably known. Mrs. Smart before marriage was confirmed as a member of St. John's Church and was for some time a member of the choir, thus returning to have the funeral services. Mrs. Smart was a devoted woman to home and family and active along all its lines until the past four years she has been an invalid and confined to her bed. Surviving are the husband and two daughters, one, the eldest, married, residing at Smithport, Pa., and Miss Marguerite, at home, who with the father have been devoted in the care of this loved mother, and an adopted sister, Mrs. Edna Hoar Love, of New York city, who with her husband, as also the immediate relatives of the deceased, also Mr. Smart's brother, William Smart, were here for the funeral and burial. Many Ellenville friends extend sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

TREE BLOOMS FIVE TIMES

Horticultural Freak Also Produces Five Sizes of Pears.

J. W. Scott of Greenfield, Mo., has a freak pear tree in his yard, which has come contrary to nature's laws this season. On some of the limbs are pears of five different sizes, representing that many times that the tree has put forth blossoms this summer. The largest pears are 11 inches in circumference, while the smallest ones are no larger than common gooseberries, the pears having just fallen from them. The last blossom appeared only recently. Fruit has formed each time the tree blossomed.

MUST WAIT CENTURY BEFORE BURIAL SERVICE

Man's Will Makes Strange Request for Self and Granddaughter.

Twenty-eight years are yet to elapse before the bodies of Morris Bell and that of his granddaughter, Jane Peeling, which now repose in iron caskets in a vault in the Greenwood cemetery at Springfield, O., will be put in graves, if the wish of Bell is carried out.

Due to the breaking of pieces of glass in the caskets, City Manager O. E. Carr recently ordered the vault door boarded up so that visitors might not enter the vault while the bodies are exposed to the outside air.

For years the vault has been a mecca for curious persons who visit Springfield.

An article referring to the two bodies, taken from a newspaper of July 12, 1894, is as follows:

"Supt. Lewis E. Staley of Greenwood cemetery has been kept busy the last six weeks showing the hundreds of curious and awe-struck visitors the confined remains of two people who have been in their graves of iron for nearly half a hundred years.

"In a vault, which is easily accessible, a rickety wooden door being without trouble easily unlocked and opened, lie the remains of Morris Bell and his granddaughter, Jane Peeling, both lying in iron coffins placed upon stone supports, four feet from the floor. The coffins are airtight, the lids being soldered on instead of being fastened with screws. A thick glass in each coffin allows a view of the face, neck and breast.

"Long before this city was incorporated Morris Bell was mayor of the settlement. He was born in Green county, and Bellbrook, the summer resort near Xenia, is named in his honor.

"He was rich and eccentric, and his dying request was that his remains should be placed in a vault; that upon Jane Peeling's death her remains were to be placed beside his in the vault, and that they were to be left there for 100 years and then both were to be buried side by side.

Bell died in 1847, and his granddaughter, aged twelve, a few years later.

HOW OUR AIRMEN ARE SAFEGUARDED

When a great event is scheduled to take place special forecasts are issued by the department of agriculture, United States weather bureau. They tell of storms, velocity of wind, atmospheric pressures, and other conditions that assist or hamper the aviator. Covering as they virtually do the entire flying area of the United States, the airmen in any part of the country is forewarned of the conditions he will encounter while in the air. PERILED BY NIGHTMARE; SAVED BY OLD SCOTCH

A guest at a New York hotel afflicted with an aggravated case of ingrowing chagrin, decided to "end it all." The river was too far, and he did not happen to have a pistol with him. The actors were striking and he couldn't attend a bedroom farce and be bored to death. There was nothing left for him to do but jump out of the window.

He climbed over the sill, towered himself and hung there holding on with his fingertips. He may have been praying. He may have been wondering if he had forgotten anything. As he was hanging a man in a room across the court caught sight of the figure and running to the telephone notified the management that one of their guests was about to drop from the sixth floor.

There was a general rush for the room of the guest who had decided to play the role of leading man at a post mortem. An entrance was effected, but the man on the other side of the window warned the would-be rescuers that if they advanced a step further he would immediately lay claim to his hair, halo and wings by releasing his hold.

They pleaded with him. They entreated. But the guest, tired of life, only smiled and said that when he counted ten he would be on his way.

He began to count. When he reached six he stopped. His lower jaw dropped. His eyes were fixed in a steady stare at something in the rear of the room. Everyone turned, and there in the doorway stood one of the guests holding aloft a "wee doech an' doris."

He made no resistance as they pulled him back into the room. He dropped limp on the bed and they poured the whisky past his white lips.

A little later as he was dressing, preparatory to leaving the hotel, he told the house detective he must have had a nightmare.

"I ate some grapes for dinner," he said, "and I must have swallowed a pill."

"You probably did," said the house detective.

DIVES TO HORSES' TAIL

Diving like Anneke Kellermann from the second story of a barn and catching hold of the tail of a horse and then being conveyed safely to dry land is not a new indoor sport—it's just the manner in which Max Lesser made his getaway from a cloudburst near Lyons recently.

A ranchman out rounding up his stock after the storm rescued a girl who had taken refuge on the top of Lesser's automobile, which he had been compelled to leave and take shelter in the barn.

CHARTER OPEN TO ARMISTICE DAY

All Veterans of World War WM Have Until Then to be Charter Members of Local Legion Post.

The charter of Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, is not yet closed and will remain open until Armistice Day, November 11, on which day the national convention takes place. All veterans of the war who sign application cards and pay their dues up to that time will be credited as charter members of the organization. The membership of Kingston Post is now 113, but of this number there are about 150 who have still to pay their dues. Although this is only a small matter it is easily put off, but everyone should get busy and make it their business to pay up.

All members who signed the application for the charter and all members who subsequently signed membership application cards and who have not yet paid their membership dues of $2 should pay the same at once. Even though one has signed the application for the charter or has not paid his dues, his name cannot be sent to national headquarters as a charter member, as the Post can only send in names of those who have paid.

All those who have joined the Post, therefore, should send in their money if they have not already done so and those who have not yet joined should do so at once and be credited as a charter member.

Dues can be paid to any of the officers of the Post or can be left at the armory. There will be someone at this week when the Post holds its inaugural dance to collect dues and receive applications for new members.

Tickets for the dance may be secured at the store of Forsyth & Davis on Wall street and E. Winter's Sons on John street, in addition to the places of business mentioned in Monday night's Freeman.

Today's Game May Settle World's Series—Cincinnati Gives Big Ovation to Victorious Athletics.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 7.—The rampaging Reds came back to familiar haunts today, after a four day sojourn in alien lands—and Cincinnati turned out en masse to accord a greeting more vociferous than ever showered upon a flock of baseball athletes, who yesterday took their fourth game from the Sox by a score of 5 to 0.

The Reds haven't acquired the world's championship as yet—but no one would think so judging from the attitude of the fanatics hereabouts. The fact that the Reds bludgeoned the Sox for a two-hy beating in their own ballparks, and now need only one more triumph to complete the crepe for Chicago, has enthused this baseball crazed town beyond description of words.

Meanwhile Pat Moran has become a figure of more heroic mould—as far as Cincinnati is concerned—than is Ferdinand Foch and the various field marshals etcetera. He has not only delivered a pennant, but probably a world's championship as well.

Today the White Sox stand face to face with annihilation as prospective world's champions. For one defeat in any of the next four battles that are scheduled makes a nightmare of their dreams; crushes the hope that was theirs a week ago—dashes them down to complete defeat in their efforts at conquest in the diamond world.

TROOPS PROTECT STEEL WORKERS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Gary, Indiana Harbor and East Chicago, under martial law, are quiet today, their streets patrolled by veterans of the European war, their steel mills protected by soldiers of the Fourth Division, with orders from Major General Leonard Wood to shoot to kill should radical leaders of striking steel workers attempt to carry out the threat made yesterday to "drag the non-union workers from the steel mills."

The federal troops rushed to the three cities late yesterday after municipal authorities admitted the situation beyond their control, are armed with field pieces—one pounders capable of ten shots a minute, with hand grenades, trench mortars, machine guns and rifles. About 4,000 additional troops enroute from Fort Sheridan and Omaha are expected to arrive in the troubled district about 10 o'clock today.

The situation in Gary assumed dangerous proportions late yesterday when strikers led by about 500 men in overseas uniforms paraded the streets in defiance of orders issued by the city authorities and officers of the Indiana state militia rushed to the city late yesterday.

The militia was powerless, and to avoid a clash with the excited marchers, numbering close to 5,000, with withdrawn from the route of parade. Emboldened by this acknowledgment of helplessness the marchers held possession of the streets for more than an hour then threatened to march on the police station at Crown Point and forcibly release several of their number, arrested last week. They shouted defiance of the police authorities and declared their intention of storming the steel mills "and pulling out non-union workers."

After a hurried conference with officers of the militia, the mayor appealed to Governor Goodrich for federal troops. Governor Goodrich instantly got into communication with Secretary of War Baker at Washington and within an hour troops under Major General Leonard Wood, were enroute to Gary from Chicago. After a hurried survey of the situation, General Wood placed the three cities under martial law, at the same time ordering the arrest of all men wearing uniforms who were not a part of the armed force called to preserve order.

General Wood's orders were to arrest these men—"get your man dead or alive," if he violates the law.

Under these circumstances the mill in the Calumet district, which have been operating with greatly reduced forces, are expected to resume "practically normal production" this afternoon.

The striking steel workers have been returning to work in numbers during the past three or four days and for a while it was thought the strike in this district was broken. But, city officials say, radical agitators, who have been secretly working among the strikers, succeeded in stirring up discontent among the foreigners among the strikers.
